A HARD-EARNED REPUTATION

Built on practical experience

Founded by Adam Hayman, Concept 73 Developments has over 25 years of experience of building exclusive commercial and residential properties in London, Surrey and the Home Counties.

For many customers, the idea of planning and creating your ideal home, property extension or renovation can be intimidating. Concept 73 Developments use their knowledge and experience to design, plan and execute to the very highest standards - with a transparent and customer focused approach.

From an initial meeting to discuss your ideas and inspiration, Concept 73 Developments will then provide free site surveys, detailed proposals and quotations.

Contemporary or traditional, heritage or modern, Concept 73 Developments will help you achieve your perfect home.

DESIGN THAT WORKS FOR YOU

Helping your property fulfil it's potential

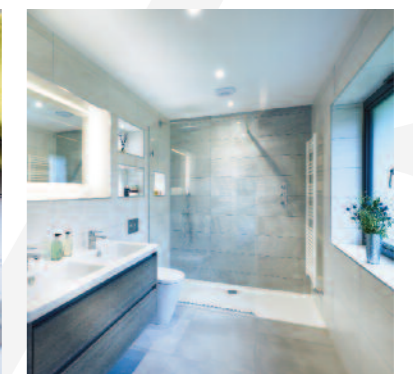

Concept 73 Developments have the design capabilities to help your property fulfil it's potential. Plans for modification, conversion or renovation all benefit from a fresh and experienced eye - bringing innovative ideas which can enhance both livability and value. Guide costs and timescales can be provided based on experience of previous projects.

With a design agreed and finalised and the cost proposal accepted, the project will move to the next stage.

Where planning proposals are necessary, then full architectural drawings can be provided for submission to the local planning office.

Where planning permission is unnecessary, building regulation drawings and documentation are developed, including complete specifications for all of the proposed work - crucial for the tendering process and ensuring that every design feature is incorporated.

All surveys and quotations are free of charge and without obligation.
